Please Note

The regions printed in italics fall within the statistical registration territory of the EU, but they have different VAT regulations. Therefore, customs formalities apply to the trade with these regions. Statistics Netherlands normally receives import and export information on these regions from customs, so normally you do not have to include these trade data in your intrastat reports. Only if you have permission to use the simplified import procedure (domiciliërings-procedure), should you report your trade activities to Statistics Netherlands.

* Trade with Northern Ireland remains part of intra-EU trade, and therefore Intrastat declarations remain compulsory, using country code XI. Trade with the rest of the United Kingdom becomes extra-EU trade, subject to customs controls. Intrastat declarations are no longer necessary for trade with the rest of the United Kingdom. For the rest of the UK, country code XU should be used.
